The Clayton/Deer Park Historical Society is a group of individuals dedicated to the preservation of the history of the area just north of Spokane, Washington. The Society collects oral, literary, and pictorial history to publish and otherwise make accessible to the public. The Clayton/Deer Park Historical Society meets on the second Saturday of each month at 9 AM. We gather at the Clayton Drive-In, located just off Highway 395 on Railroad Ave.

WILLIAM HOPKINS SHORT
FOUNDING FATHER OF DEER PARK WASHINGTON
By: PETER COFFIN

AUTHOR’S NOTE
(William Hopkins Short contributed so much to the beginnings of Deer Park I felt that his story should be told in more detail than has been available to date. Most of the material in this manuscript has been taken from his son’s manuscript “From Whence We Came” and I have used the material from that manuscript that helps detail his father’s life.)

INTRODUCTION
William Hopkins Short organized a sawmill firm, Short and Crawford, with his brother-in-law George Crawford in 1889. They rented a portable sawmill and set it up on a siding of the Spokane Falls and Northern Railroad about 20 miles north of Spokane to cut ties for the railroad. The siding had been named Deer Park by the railroad surveyors for the park like setting in the trees that contained so many deer.

The saw mill was set up in an area that contained a few rough board buildings and a few homesteaders. There was an early store that stocked necessary supplies for the homesteaders and became Kelly’s store. There were not enough workers to run the sawmill every day so a few days were spent logging and accumulating logs so the mill would have a supply to cut into ties and lumber for shipping and selling. Because of this labor shortage William Short built a boarding house so the nearby homesteading farmers could take their noon meal at the boarding house and that other laborers had a place to stay.

From this start the small settlement of Deer Park siding grew into the town of Deer Park. It is interesting that there are very few things named for William Hopkins Short. The only thing named for Mr. Short, that I am aware of, is the stretch of the road north from the end of North Avenue in northwest Deer Park to the Gardenspot Grange. Short Road continues South as far as Staley Road. Crawford Street is named for his brother-in-law who was in the area for three years!

Many other Deer Park institutions, such as parks and cemeteries were either donated or organized by Short or his family.

THE EARLY YEARS

William Hopkins Short was born in Gouverneur, New York on October 21, 1863, the first child of William Allison Short and Ruth Sarah Hopkins. His parents were married on January 1, 1863. His father was an engraver for the Tiffany Company in New York City that had moved to upstate New York. He was a skilled engraver and Tiffany sent special engraving projects to him for his special touch. His mother was deeply religious (her son William Hodges Short used the word puritanical to describe her), and very strong willed. Her mother had died when she was seventeen so she had to take care of her seven brothers and sisters and was unable to attend Mount Holyoke College as she had hoped.

In 1875 or 1876 William Allison and Ruth Sarah were separated and Ruth Sarah took her four children to Minnesota to be near two brothers. At this time William H. was thirteen years old. The United States census indicates that she and three surviving children; William H., Emma A., and Gertrude P. were living in Morristown, Minnesota, in June 1880. A brother George died from diphtheria in early 1880. The Census listing indicates William H. was a “laborer” and his son indicates he worked in both saw mills and flour mills in Minnesota.

A NEW BEGINNING IN THE WEST

William Hopkins Short (WH Sr.) moved to Spokane in early 1889 at the urging of his mother’s brother, Brayton Hopkins, who had settled on Peone Prairie northwest of Spokane Falls. The rest of his family would move to the Spokane area a few months later. The family now included his mother, his sister Gertrude, Gertrude’s husband George Crawford and their daughter Ruth. His sister Emma remained in Minnesota to finish her schooling.

WH Sr. got a job with the Washington Mill Company in Spokane Falls and rapidly gained the confidence of the partners owning the operation. The company needed more lumber than its Spokane Falls mill could provide. Spokane was rebuilding after the fire and ties were needed for building the Spokane Falls and Northern Railroad. In addition the railroad wanted to sell the timber from its land along the right-of-way. The result of these needs resulted in a three way deal whereby WH Sr. and George Crawford organized a saw mill operation to buy timber from the railroad, saw it into lumber (and ties) to supply the Washington Mill Company with the lumber that they needed. In the summer of 1889 the company Short and Crawford was formed and they rented a portable saw mill to set up along a siding of the railroad named Deer Park.

LIFE IN DEER PARK

The Short family has many letters that were written in the 1890-1891 period that describe the primitive living conditions in early Deer Park. In one letter written in the summer of 1890 it was noted that WH Sr. had walked seven miles to the Wild Rose Church to attend Sunday school. Shortly thereafter, on August 17, 1890, the first religious service was held in Deer Park in the newly constructed Short house. It was new, incomplete and measured twelve by twelve feet. By November 1891 a Congregational Minister, Reverend Walters, came to Deer Park to help organize a Congregational Church. Four members of the Short family (WH Sr., Sarah R., George and Gertrude Crawford) along with nine other people signed as charter members.
In January 1891 the firm of Short and Crawford purchased the rented portable sawmill and the surrounding real estate. Business was good in 1891 and 1892 and by June 1892 a new mill was in operation with a larger carriage cutting long building timbers, new boilers and a more efficient gang edger. Earlier in February 1892 WH Sr. became supervisor of the Washington Mill Company’s Spokane and Deer Park operations. George Crawford was made manager of the Deer Park mill.

The new management was modified by the death of Gertrude (Short) Crawford shortly after the birth of Agnes her second child. Several months later her husband, George, was called to Minnesota to care for his stroke stricken father. George did not return to Deer Park and the burden of managing the Deer Park mill fell on WH Sr. After this, WH Sr. spent half his time in Spokane and half in Deer Park taking care of Washington Mill Company business. It was during this time, in 1892, that the new boarding house was built.

WH Sr. and his family had helped found the Congregational Church in Deer Park and in early 1895 plans were drawn up for a proper church building. The first church in Deer Park was dedicated on March 29, 1896 on Short property south of the boarding house and east of the mill site.

Later in 1896, on July 28th WH Sr. married Florence Louise Hodges a teacher whom he met in Spokane. After a few months in Deer Park the couple moved to Spokane to be nearer his work with the Mill Company. On June 11, 1897, William Hodges Short is born and on March 6, 1902, Gertrude Louise Short is born. In the spring of 1898 the Short family moved back to live on the second floor of the boarding house.

The period from 1897 to 1902 saw much growth for the company. Lands west of the mill were developed for lumber drying and storage and an area along Dragoon Creek was fenced for horse pasture. The company was buying as many logs from local homesteaders as it could as the farmers cleared their land to conserve its own supply. More timberland was being purchased as it came on the market as well as a small sawmill at Newport, Washington. Evan Enoch, who had married one of WH Sr.'s cousins moved to Newport to manage the new purchase. Frank Reed, Emma Short's husband, who had been the head sawyer at the Deer Park mill was moved to Milan, Washington to manage a new mill at West Branch after the Mill Company purchased a pine stand in the Little Spokane River valley.

In 1902 WH Sr. left the Washington Mill Company and organized the Standard Lumber Company with his sister Emma Reed. Trustees of the new company were: W. A. Short, E. A. Reed, E. Enoch, B. Lewis, and B. A. Hopkins. Evan Enoch and B. A. Hopkins were local homesteaders in Deer Park in 1890 and had been associated with WH Sr. since that time.

In the spring of 1903 the mill built in 1892 burned. The lumber yard and other buildings were saved and the mill was rebuilt on the same site. Logs for milling at the new mill were hauled from more and more distant locations. During winter months logs were hauled to the mill on sleds and stock piled near the mill for milling in the summer. These sleds (that were impractical to use in the summer) and horse and ox drawn wagons could not haul enough to keep the mill running. By 1907 the distance had become so big that WH Sr. purchased a three wheeled steam traction engine nicknamed “Old Buck” to haul the logs from the woods to the mill. Three wheeled trailers were built to carry the logs behind the steam traction engine. Over time Old Buck proved to be inefficient and uneconomical needing a nearly ideal road to haul the trailers and their loads.

During April of 1904 Florence Louise Short died of complications of a pregnancy. She was buried in the Catholic Kelly Cemetery as it was the only one near Deer Park. WH Sr. was left with a young son and a baby daughter.

By 1908 the Arcadia Orchard Company was finishing the irrigation system for their apple orchard operation. Part of that irrigation system was a holding reservoir created by damming Dragoon Creek northwest of Deer Park. The dam was constructed of timber framing filled with dirt. In 1910 WH Sr. built his third sawmill in Deer Park on the eastern bank of this reservoir using it as the mill pond to keep the logs moist to retain their quality. The new mill was built with a steel frame and brick walls. The electrically run machinery was the latest available and the new band saw replaced the old circular saw operation in the first two mills he built.

In 1913 WH Sr. decided to build a standard gauge railroad north from Deer Park to haul logs to the mill from a stand of white pine timber about 4 to 6 miles north of Deer Park. This railroad became the Deer Park Central. Business was very brisk with the demand for pine lumber for house building in Deer Park, pine lumber for flumes and trestles for the Arcadia Orchard Company, timbers of larch for building rafters and white pine planks to be shipped to Michigan to be made into matches. During this period WH Sr. took a business trip to Minnesota and New York.

During the first decade of the 20th century WH. Sr. was active in civic affairs. In 1908 the Congregational Church was remodeled with his planning... and help. The bell tower and the entry were moved from the west side of the church to the east side facing Deer Park’s Main Avenue. In the same year he donated the land for the Woodland Cemetery and moved his wife Florence to it. Burials in the earlier, somewhat remote first Deer Park Cemetery southwest of town were also moved to both the Woodland and Kelly (St. Mary’s) cemetery at the same time.

On July 28, 1911, William Hopkins Short married Miss Cora Chadbourne who had lived on Wild Rose Prairie and was a member of the Congregational Church. She became a very important member of the Short family and provided a loving mother for WH Sr.’s children.

By 1914 Standard Lumber’s operations were experiencing cash flow problems and WH Sr. sold the mill, 16,000 acres of timberland, and the Deer Park Central Railroad to William Leuthold and Ralph Wilson. The consideration totaled $500,000, with $10,000 in cash, the assumption of $345,000 in debt and the remainder in deferred stock. Leuthold and Wilson immediately (Continued from page 663) changed the name to the Deer Park Lumber Company. A lawsuit was brought by Deer Park Lumber (and Leuthold and Wilson) against Standard Lumber (and Short) claiming that the timberland was short approximately 13,000,000 board feet of lumber. There was a cross suit by Short against Leuthold and Wilson which made claims about the considerations in the original sale. The dispute reached the Washington State Supreme Court which finally declared that neither side was due any money outside the original contract and that each party was responsible for their own legal costs. The Deer Park Lumber Company continued to operate until the 1950s when it was sold to Potlatch Corporation. In his last years WH Sr. continued to make contracts to deliver logs along the Little Spokane River and to a new sawmill on Onion Creek near Northport, Washington.

In March 1917, WH Sr. offered two tracts of land for a Deer Park Tourist Park. At that time Tourist Parks in small towns were being promoted as encouraging the tourist industry. Earlier Frank Reed, WH Jr.’s brother-in-law offered a “prime site” for a tourist park but the Commercial Club let the offer slide. It would take until 1922 for the city to formally acquire Short’s Dragoon Creek site for Deer Park’s “Tourist Park”

CONCLUSION

William Hopkins Short’s life came to an end in service to the church for which he was a charter member. On December 21, 1930, he had left his home at 5:00 AM to light a fire in the boiler of the Congregational Church. He suffered a cerebral hemorrhage as he was trying to open the door to the church and fell to the floor of the church’s porch. He was found by Miss Marion Rice at 8:30 AM as she came to the church to complete some Christmas decorations. I do not think that there is a single individual in Deer Park’s history that has contributed as much to the community as he had.

This is the story of the World War II pilot who survived when his airplane was shot down over Belgium but died in the crash of a military transport plane!

Alva Avon Loyell Eickmeyer was born on November 18, 1917, to Henry & Bessie (Barber) Eickmeyer, on their Wild Rose Prairie Farm (north Spokane County, Washington state.) He was the fifth of six sons. At the time of his birth, his eldest brother, Adair Laverne, was 8½ years old. His other brothers, Louis Lorraine, Andrew Kenneth, and Virl Cyrille were ages 7, 4½ & 3. Youngest brother, Henry Merwin, was born when Alva was about 2½.

Times were hard on the farm, feeding 6 growing boys with wild game, potatoes, grain, chickens and a vegetable garden. Bessie’s younger sister, Edith, offered to help by taking one boy to live with her in Riverside, California, and educate him through high school and college. So, in 1931, Alva went to live with Aunt Edith & Uncle Gus Byrn. They were both high school teachers, she in Home Economics and he in Wood Shop, with no children of their own. Photos that survive show Al studying by the fireplace and receiving a visit from his brother Virl.

In 1935, Henry, Bessie & Merwin drove to Riverside to attend Alva’s High School Graduation. Photos show a family reunion, then, with Bessie’s sisters, her mother, Sarah, and several cousins. Al’s brother Lorraine (aka Ray) lived then in Alameda, California, and he also came to Riverside for the graduation and reunion.

After 2 years of college, Al enlisted in the Army National Guard on March 3, 1941, from San Bernardino, CA. He was 71 inches tall and weighed 160 pounds.

136 pounds, at age 23. The enlistment record lists his occupation as “automatic telephone system maintenance man.”

In 1944, Alva was listed as a Second Lieutenant in the Army Air Corps and a pilot of the Lockheed P-38 Lightning.

Alva married Margaretta L. Boyne at Camp Claiborne, Louisiana, on December 19, 1942. She was a US Army Nurse, soon sent to the Pacific, while Al was sent to service in Europe. It is unknown if they ever saw each other again. His family never met her.

In September 1944, Al was serving with the Army Air Corps 485 Fighter Squadron, 371 Fighter Group based near Florennes, Belgium. His assignment was to “strafe enemy columns” and on his fourth mission, September 3, (about 4 p.m.) 3 miles east of Nivelles, Belgium, his P-38 was shot down by the enemy from 800 – 1000 feet (altitude). The left engine was in flames and the plane exploded on crashing. Al’s parachute opened and he was not injured. The plane was “badly burned and broken up into small pieces.” He avoided being taken prisoner by the Germans and was helped by Mr. and Mrs. Emile Philippon of Bois de Nivelles, Belgium. “I was aided and hidden at the home of these people for 3 days and was given every possible assistance.” [Details are from the report Alva filed on September 11.]

“An English liaison plane made a covert landing near his hiding place and flew him to safety in Brussels, which had just been liberated by the British. Eickmeyer was probably the first American to enter the city. He made it back to his squadron three days later.” [Quote is from “History of the 370th Fighter Group” written by Jay Jones.]

Apparently, Al was soon sent to London to file reports and then sent home on furlough in a few weeks. The secret report we now have, contains pages of restrictions, signed by Alva, as he agrees not to talk about his evasion from capture, etc. He was later transported to Ft. Lewis, Washington. Unknown how he traveled across Washington state, but we know he stopped in Wenatchee, to see his eldest brother Adair’s family, wife Molly & daughters Margie and Carol. That may have been about October 21. By Sunday, October 23, he was at home with his parents.

The Deer Park Union, dated October 26, 1944, in the “Wild Rose” column, by our neighbor, Mrs. L. G. Hazard writes “Mr. and Mrs. Henry Eickmeyer were pleasantly surprised Sunday morning to find their son Alva had arrived home during the night. Second Lieutenant Eickmeyer has just returned from Belgium where his plane was shot down behind enemy lines. He was a member of a fighter squadron. He will be in the states for three months but will only be home for about two weeks. He visited his brother, Adair, and family at Wenatchee on his way home from Fort Lewis.”

Later, Al and his dad drove to Chelan, Washington, took the boat up Lake Chelan to Holden, (a little mining town above Lake Chelan,) and visited another brother, Virl, and his family for a few days. His wife, Gerry, remembers them playing chess, hour after hour, presumably while Virl was at work at the copper mine. They may have played with Virl’s children, Nancy and Virl, Jr., and visited Virl’s and Al’s cousin, Mont Chadbourne, who also worked at the Holden mine, as a welder.

Al would have spent time with his parents, enjoyed some home-cooked meals, and visited with his brothers Andy and Merwin, who still lived on the farm, as well as Merwin’s wife Arlys and their daughter, Marilyn. (Merwin & family lived in a smaller home on the same farm.)

While home on furlough, Al went out to Galena Army Air Force Base and checked out a rifle, for target practice. His target was a deer. The Deer Park Union report, on November 9, 1944, says “Alva Eickmeyer left Tuesday to report to California after his visit at home. He got his venison while here.” His mother probably cooked and canned the venison.

Then Al flew out of Galena on a military flight to California, visited brother Ray, in Alameda, and his wife Mary Ann and son Dennis. Then reported to duty. He was flying from Hamilton field, Long Beach, California to Rosecran’s Field, St. Joseph, Missouri in a C-47 cargo plane, but that airplane crashed!

On November 15, 1944, a Spokesman-Review article (byline Long Beach, Calif., Nov. 14) read: “The Sixth ferrying group, army air transport command, announced today the names of 11 persons killed last Saturday night when a C-49 (sic) cargo plane crashed on a snow-drifted slope of Strawberry peak. The dead included Lt. Alva Eickmeyer; son of Henry Eickmeyer, Deer Park, Wash.”

Merwin had just returned from the hospital (appendicitis) when the telephone call came to tell of Alva’s death. His parents were away, visiting a neighbor. Merwin had to tell his parents the news.

The following is from the Los Angeles County Sheriff’s report about the November 12, 1944, search for a downed “C-47 #6143, with thirteen aboard, enroute from Hamilton Field.”

“On 11-11-44, a flash had been seen in the vicinity of Lake Hughes approximately 8:15 PM.” The report gives great detail about the search for and discovery of the crash site and use of 3 ambulances to remove the two injured and the eleven bodies over the next 2 days. The list of nine dead confirms that this is the crash in question.

The November 23rd issue of the Deer Park Union reports: “Funeral services were held at the Wild Rose church Monday afternoon for Lt. Alva Eickmeyer, who was killed in a plane crash in California on his way to report to duty after his furlough at home. He was born and raised at the family home on the prairie and would have been 27 years old last Friday. He is survived by his wife, Margaret, of the U.S. Army Nurses corps overseas; his parents, Mr. & Mrs. Henry Eickmeyer, and five brothers, Adair of Wenatchee, Loraine of Alameda, Calif., Virl of Holden, Wash., and Andrew and Merwin at the home. Interment was in the Wild Rose cemetery. Alva entered the service four years ago, attended officer candidate school and trained pilots until recently when he was sent to England. On his fourth mission over Europe he was shot down behind the enemy lines in Belgium. He worked his way back to our lines and was sent home for a rest. The sympathy of the community is extended to the family.”

Alva’s youngest cousin, Bill Eickmeyer, remembers attending the funeral with his family and seeing the flag-draped coffin and Alva’s family at the little church.

The Wild Rose Cemetery contains Alva’s military tombstone with the following words: “ALVA AVON EICKMEYER - WASHINGTON - 2 LIEUT. AIR CORPS - NOVEMBER 18, 1917 - NOVEMBER 11, 1944” His family gravestone says “ALVA A. EICKMEYER - 1917 – 1944 with the wings symbol between the dates.

Society President, Bill Sebright called the meeting to order at 9:02 AM. 1) Marilyn Reilly called letting us know that the Koehler family had deeded over the old Williams Valley School to the Board of Fire Commissioners of Stevens County Fire Protection District No. 1 (SCFPD1). Copies of the bid process for sale and removal were passed around. Wally sent out an email describing the situation. He received one reply. 2) We received a box of history material from Barb Erickson Bogdan and Paul Erickson. It contained great information on the history of the Deer Park Mill, Arcadia Orchards (a couple original contracts!), obits for Bob Herendeen and Genora Follevaag and many other things. A big THANK YOU to Barb and Paul! 3) Welcome to new member Cassie Hill. She joined the Society during the Clayton Fair. 4) Also at the Clayton Fair, Anne and Mel Molstad gave us information on the history of the Sons of Norway Lodge in Deer Park during the 1940s. Bill passed the information around for all to see. 5) The next Heritage Network meeting will be on Monday, September 17th at 9:30AM at the Clayton School.

Treasurer, Mark Wagner reported that there is $3015 in the main checking account. And a $17.00 service charge (treasurer will cover out of pocket) Deposits $40.00 from fair and $90 from Brickyard Days. Activity included $90 to Taffy for eagle maintenance, $60 for Grange Rental and $13 Deer Park Printing for Grand Marshall signs. Maintenance Web hosting account had $206.41 in funds with a $10.95 in activity monthly hosting fee.

Grace Hubal, Secretary reported: 1) She sold two Reports: Volumes 1 and 2. The lady who got the Standing Watch CD found it to be educational and enjoyable.

Vice President, Pete Coffin reported that he: 1) has contacted the law firm of Wells St. John in Spokane about copyrighting the digital Arcadia Orchards Company film. He is presently waiting for their evaluation of his description of a possible copyright. 2) The Mortarboard may be copyrighted but this needs to be checked to see if laws covering copyright are being followed. The Reports plainly indicate they are copyrighted. Perhaps copies of both ought to be sent to the Library of Congress to confirm the copyright if this has not already been done. 3) Has visited the Spokane County Engineers basement Arcadia Orchard files again and copied horticulture maps as well as some engineering drawing. Horticulture maps include the following sections (or portions of) in Township 28N-42E, 1, 2, 13, 14, 23, 24, 25, 26, 35: in Township 29N-42E, 22, 25, T28N-R43E, 6, 7, Township 29N-R42E, 19, 26, 36. 4) Visited the MAC to review the archives of the Arcadia Orchards Fruit Growers Association for evidence of water problems but found none. He inquired about the possibility of trading the Arcadia Orchards film for some sort of break on the use of the MAC’s historical pictures. There will be no chance of a trade. 5) Has digitized a large amount of original A. J. Kemp material covering the Blue Grouse Mountain tungsten mining district. Took a field trip to try to visit the mine site but was stopped by gated roads. 6) Has been assembling material on the Deer Park drag races from the digital Deer Park newspapers. In this context interviewed C. J. Justice who was one of the original organizers of the Inland Empire Timing Association who began the drag races. 7) As the new treasurer of the Inland Northwest Camaro Club he was surprised at the low cost of their liability insurance as compared to the Historical Society’s premium. I have obtained a proposal from the same insurance firm that insures the Camaro Club for liability that would cost the Historical Society $250 per year. 8) Has not had a response from KSPS people about using the Arcadia Orchard film and the Dr. John Fahey manuscript “Selling the Watered West” as a documentary film subject. 9) Gave the Mortarboard editor a manuscript and digital pictures for a paper titled Arcadia Orchards Company and Irrigation Water.

Print Editor, Sharon Clark reported: 1) The September 2012 Mortarboard, #53 was distributed. She shared a picture of her 8th grade basketball team. She will write down the names of the team so that we can put it in a future Mortarboard.

Webmaster Penny Hutten emailed her report: This month the only thing added to the website was the "Clayton Fair 2012" web page.

We plan to celebrate June’s 100th DPHS Commencement with an All-School Reunion on July 27, 2013. Florene Moore talked about this reunion. She suggested that the celebration could be at the new high school in the common area or at the Deer Park City Hall where most of the graduating class pictures are located. There was much discussion. We encourage all DPHS graduates who plan to attend to bring their high school annuals to share. We are still looking for representatives from all classes to spread the word and get ideas for the all school reunion.

The last Friends of the Deer Park Library Book Sale this year will be on October 5th and 6th at the Deer Park Auto Freight. Volunteers needed to help box up books the following Monday.

Marilyn Reilly reported that it would cost $18,000 to move the Williams Valley School 1-1/2 miles. One person made a bid on the building but changed his mind when he found out that it was going to cost so much. It sounds as though the school may be there until the spring. A final gathering of old classmates was discussed at the School and the owners said that it would be okay. Betty Burdette mentioned that there were many gatherings in the past. She also said that she had gone to the Williams Valley School. It was mentioned that Luella Dow, Lorraine Ball, Fay Reilly, and Jim Reilly also graduated from there.

David Benscoter talked about the trees planted in the Arcadia Orchards. A field trip to different areas 1) East of Deer Park; 2) by Arcadia School; 3) Dick Purdy’s property south of Deer Park; 4) The Hale property south of Purdy’s; 5) The Harlan and Amy Helm property southwest of the high school) of the old orchards was planned; 6) We will meet at 11 AM on October 20 by the Arcadia Orchards sign at Arcadia School for the field trip.

The Clayton Fair and booth were discussed. Thanks to those who set up and those who manned the booth.

Editorial Policy Regarding Correcting Errors and/or Omissions

Information published here is compiled from many sources, including personal memories. It is often difficult or impossible to verify such recollections through outside documentation. Our editorial policy toward the veracity of personal recollections tends toward the casual — since little harm is normally done by such errors. But our editorial process also invites public review and input regarding the accuracy of the information we publish, and when such review either suggests or reveals errors or items open to dispute our “Letters” department will act as a forum allowing the airing of such disagreements in an effort to ascertain the truth and correct any probable or demonstrated errors. We also believe it’s important that such disagreements be recorded, even if they can’t be settled to the satisfaction of all parties.

We encourage everyone to submit any arguments as to fact to the editor in writing — since the written form reduces the chance of further misunderstandings. As is standard policy, all letters will be edited for spelling, word usage, clarity, and — if necessary — contents. If advisable, the editor will confer directly with the letter writers to insure that everyone’s comments and corrections are submitted in a literate, polite, and compelling manner — as best suits the editorial image of this Society’s publications.
